

Remote Team Day Overview

Offered by Jennifer Britton – Potentials Realized, Remote Pathways

What focused attention could your team benefit from? Join coach and author Jennifer Britton for a one-day team development session VIRTUALLY! Just like an offsite, we meet together for a one-day session, but we do it on zoom.

Why invest in your remote team?

- » Things in the remote world are magnified meaning that little issues can become big issues
- » Formal leadership is not enough. Everyone on a remote team needs skills and direction.
- » Things can accelerate quickly - trust and connection on the team is critical
- » We do not operate in isolation - we need to make sure that we know WHERE to Go and WHO to reach out to

A typical team day

This six-hour facilitated session includes team discussions, individual reflection, breakouts and hands-on work with the team focusing on:

- Strengthening Team relationships
- Identifying individual and team strengths
- Creating shared team agreements - how do we operate together as a remote team.
- Prioritizing, clarifying and committing to key goals for the year (or quarter)
- Developing an action plan

Additional modules on key remote working skills such as conflict, working styles, difficult conversations, and many other core leadership and teamwork topics

Ideally Suited For

- Teams moving from an intact nature to a remote team
- Teams that want to clarify their direction
- Teams which are new, or changing, and need to get to know each other as well as clarify results
- Teams operating in a changing context that need to find new ways of working

Here's what others have said about our support

"This was way beyond our expectations" - COO

"This needs to be rolled out to every team in our organization" - Team Lead

"You really understand our world. You were flexible in making adjustments, specific for our team needs. Thank you!" - Team Member

"Jennifer, your style naturally facilitated the conversations that needed to be had on our team." - Leader

Team Days are a discussion-based, team connection experience held on zoom. It runs live for the 6.5 hours of content, and it's recommended that a meal and two shorter breaks are built in to create a 7.5 or 8 hour day.

What supports are provided throughout the day

- Facilitated conversation and coaching;
- Breakout experiences for peers to connect;
- Workbook for team to use during the day and after;
- Action plan for the team to take forward

Now Booking for 2020 Sessions.
Reach out to Jennifer Britton at info@potentialsrealized.com or phone her at 416.996.8326

Want to learn more about your strengths and unique capabilities? Join us at the Remote Pathways Lab for group coaching and/or contact us to book a coaching call, a Team Day, or DiSC or StrengthsFinder assessment.